Cuba HS student receives national award for work with Campaign for Tobacco-Free Kids

By permission from The Rio Rancho Observer May 7

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Cuba High School student Adrianna Casaus was named a National Youth Advocate of the Year by the Campaign for Tobacco-Free Kids on May 5.

Campaign for Tobacco-Free Kids is an advocacy organization working to reduce tobacco use among students.

The organization works with leaders in the United States at the local, state and national levels, as well as in low- and middle-income countries.

Casaus got involved in the fight against tobacco during her freshman year of high school after noticing widespread e-cigarette use among her peers and witnessing the effects of tobacco use on her grandfather's health.

She has also worked with New Mexico legislators to advocate for the Tobacco Products Act, a new law that raised the tobacco sales ages to 21 and required retailers to obtain a license to sell tobacco products. Adrianna most recently worked to advocate for an increase in the state's tobacco tax.

"We are thrilled to honor Adrianna Casaus as a National Youth Advocate of the Year," said Matthew L. Myers, president of the Campaign for Tobacco-Free Kids. "Seeing first-hand the impact of tobacco use on her peers and family, Adrianna has become a passionate advocate for the health of her peers and community. She exemplifies the qualities of a new generation of leaders who are standing up to the tobacco industry and fighting with us for a healthier and more equitable future."

Every year, the Campaign for Tobacco-Free Kids honors a National Youth Advocate of the Year, four Individual Youth Advocates of the Year and a Group Youth Advocate of the Year. The winners receive scholarships to continue their tobacco prevention efforts and serve as youth ambassadors for the organization.

In New Mexico, tobacco use claims 2,600 lives annually and costs $844 million in health care bills each year. Currently, 8.9 percent of New Mexico high school students smoke cigarettes, and 34 percent use e-cigarettes.

For more information about the award winners, visit tfk.org/awards.

HAVE YOU FOUND A BUYER(S) FOR YOUR LIVESTOCK?

Livestock Auctions do not guaranty a sale of your animal. Talk to neighbors, friends, someone you know and any amount can be pooled towards the purchase of your animal. We'll help you get there!

The following pages are for livestock exhibitors to take to their potential buyers or individuals/businesses for Add-Ons. Please print the pages with as many copies as you need.

Don't wait until the last minute to secure a buyer!

Thank You!

Dear 4-H supporter,

I am a 4-H member of the Sandoval County 4-H program and will be participating at the 2022 Sandoval County Fair, August 3-7, 2022. My hopes are that my livestock project will place well and earn me a spot in the Jr. Livestock Sale. I am asking for your support in any of the following ways:

As a Buyer

You as an individual have the pleasure of bidding up the sale, making it fast and exciting!

Group Bidding

Two or more individuals, families, or business may wish to split the cost of an animal.

Add-On

You as an individual or business can designate a certain amount to be added on to a single exhibitor or animal or group of exhibitors.

Make a Donation

Donate to the Amigos Club and your donation will go towards the purchase of an animal or help bring the floor up for an animal.

Your support goes a long ways to help me defray some of the costs associated with my animal project. Any monies above my cost will go toward my college fund. Below is a chart of minimum financial costs by species:

	Purchase	Feed
Goat	$325.00	$300.00
Lamb	$350.00	$300.00
Hog	$300.00	$450.00
Steer	$2000.00	$1500.00

If you purchase an animal and have questions regarding how much meat you will get or how much freezer space you will need, please click on the link below:
